EVENT: There will be a one-mile race at 9:00am. The start and finish are on the beach at Cole's Point, clearly visible to the spectators and race personnel. The course runs along the shore, approximately 500 yards to the south, and then turns east and north into a protected inlet, around buoys that will be clearly visible. The swimmers will reach the turn-around point inside the "no wake zone" in the inlet, turn counter-clockwise around a buoy, and swim back to the beach via the same route. All buoys will remain to the swimmer's left, except the final one, which will be on the right. A 2x 3-foot poster of the course diagram will be posted at the lake, and the current water and air temperature will be posted at 8am. Swimmers will depart from the beach in waves of 10 people or fewer, 30 seconds apart.
