Swimming for health

Peter Powlison of Lanikai has just won five gold medals and set four world swimming records.

He is 64 and has had four heart bypasses, but that hasn't stopped the former high school and college swimming star from becoming a record breaker again.

Powlison returned last Thursday from the World Masters Swimming Championships in Tokyo where he won the 50-, 100-, 200-, 400- and 800-meter freestyle events in the 60-64 age division and set world records in all but the 400.

The meet was a high point in the life of a swimmer who regrets never having made it to the Olympics. During his peak years as a swimmer, the 1940 and 1944 Olympics were canceled because of war. In 1948, Powlison reached the final trials but did not make the team.

Now he is enjoying a second distinguished swimming career that seems to be getting better as he gets older.

Powlison, a retired Punahou social studies teacher, is swimming the fastest now in all his five years in the masters.

"I've not stopped making better times."

He said that swimmers are supposed to lose one percent off their race times each year as they get older. But for him, it's going the other way, he said.

"It's wonderful at 64 to have a high point," he said.

In 1979, Powlison underwent open heart surgery. He began swimming again for his health.

Two friends already in the masters encouraged him to take up his old sport again. Powlison said that their encouragement and patience were important. If he had been pushed too hard, he said that he might not have continued swimming.

"It's gone beyond just for health," he said.

Once he started training again, he realized how much he enjoyed it. And his swimming times were fast enough to encourage him to swim competitively.

But for him, masters swimming is more than just competition. He is able to meet new people from all over the world who share the same interest. At the recent Tokyo meet, about 3,500 people from 19 countries competed.

Peter Powlison's favorite stroke is freestyle.

On the average, he swims one hour daily five days a week. He usually swims at the community pool in Kailua, but occasionally goes to Kaneohe or Punahou to swim.

"I love to train," Powlison said. "I'd rather train than compete," since competition can be a great strain.

Powlison's early swimming career was distinguished. He made the All American prep team at Punahou in 1939 and 1940. Then he went on to the University of Washington where he was named an All American for four years.

Powlison has no plans to quit his swimming.

"I will try to keep up my swimming for the rest of my life," he said, but he's not sure how long he will continue in competition.

For now, Powlison is looking forward to being the young man in a new age group. In March he will start swimming in the 65-69 category.

Life has changed a lot for Powlison since he had his surgery.

"It's made a new person of me," he said. He now has more energy and enthusiasm for life.

Powlison, whose interests are in Asian studies, retired in 1981 after 32 years at Punahou. He now is a full-time travel agent.

Powlison also uses his experience to help others.

He said that he talks to people who go through open heart surgery about what it is like. He shares what he went through with patients here and on the Mainland.

Powlison said that his accomplishments in such a strenuous activity seem to give bypass patients inspiration.

Though he still has heart disease, it won't stop him. Powlison said that he never worries about his heart while he's swimming. All he thinks about in the water is perfecting his swimming technique.

1st FINA/MSI WORLD MASTERS SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS

This was undoubtedly the most wonderful Masters meet to date! The Yoyogi Olympic Pool in Tokyo was a great setting for this first World Championship. The meet ran swiftly and smoothly for the 3500 entrants. The heat sheet was 1/2 inch thick! The awards were outstanding and I believe everyone that attended was impressed with the whole operation. The 2nd World Championship meet will be held in Brisbane, Australia on Oct. 8-14. It will be a 6 day meet with 6 events allowed per swimmer and the 400 IM will be included. The 3rd World Championship meet will be held in Rio in 1990. (World Championships to be held every other year.) Pictures on front cover:
